

Truman Anticipates Mud Slinging; Won't Take It Lying Down

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman, in a speech reminiscent of his 1948 "give 'em Hell" style, declared last night that the Democrats won't take lying down the "lies and smears" he said he anticipates from Republicans and "special interests" in the 1952 presidential campaign.

Mr. Truman told an audience of party members here he thinks more money will be spent "in trying to defeat the Democratic party next year than has ever before been spent in any election in the history of the country."

This brought from Republicans reiteration of "corruption" charges. Mr. Truman did not mention in his speech any of the charges of wrongdoing which have been alleged against his administration.

Takes First Prize
His declaration that "the truth and the facts are on our side" brought a retort from Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) that "President Truman should certainly get the prize for political effrontery" for his speech.

Guy G. Gabrielson, chairman of the Republican National committee, said Mr. Truman had "a flash of realism" when he said "a mistake in a presidential election can cause the country untold harm."

"The reminder isn't necessary for millions of Americans," Gabrielson said. "They are disgusted and alarmed at the high taxes, high prices, corruption, crises and war of his incompetent administration. They won't make the mistake again."

Without naming the senator, Mr. Truman singled out Taft with the assertion that "special interests" had poured money into Ohio last year to elect the Republican.

Charges Not Denied
Taft, an avowed candidate for his party's presidential nomination, said in a statement in Cincinnati that "it is the Truman party which is the beneficiary of the money of special interests and of millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money used for political propaganda x x x."

"The head of an administration which has condoned Communism, immorality and corruption and does not even bother to deny the proven charges, talks of the great moral position of his administration in the world," Taft continued.

"He talks of a bipartisan foreign policy, although he was the man who plunged the country into the Korean war without consulting either the Republicans or Congress."

Taft said the CIO and AFL had undertaken to raise $30,000,000 from union members "to purge all Republicans from Congress." He said Republicans legitimately spent money to meet this attack, adding:

Prepared For Smears
"If Mr. Truman can ever receive 70,000 completely voluntary and unsolicited contributions of $1 each, as I did in 1950, his talk about special interests would not ring so false."

Mr. Truman, who planned to return today to Key West, Fla., to resume his interrupted vacation, outlined for his party at a banquet of the National Women's Democratic club last night the kind of a campaign he said it must make next year.

He pictured it as a slugging battle against well-heeled Republicans who could be expected to put on a "dirty smear campaign."

The president forecast a Republican attempt to buy the presidency with excessive campaign spending, asserted that "misrepresentation can be expected to reach new heights" and said that if the GOP chooses to make foreign policy an issue it will be "overwhelmingly repudiated by the people."

"I do not expect the Democratic party to take that kind of attack lying down," he declared as listeners applauded.

Nothing About 1952
The president left up in the air the question whether he will run again. But he seemed to indicate that if he doesn't, he fully expects to have the determining voice in naming the Democratic nominee.

Military Men Study Needs For Build-Up Of Eisenhower Army

By STAN SWINTON
ROME — (AP) — The west's top military men studied today just what and how much Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower needs to carry out an accelerated buildup of his international army.

A top-secret listing of forces, air fields, equipment and other requirements was made for them by Eisenhower's chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther.

Attending the closely guarded meeting were the chiefs of staff of 11 member nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and a representative of army-less Iceland—the NATO military committee.

Eisenhower is known to want an international army of between 30 and 40 divisions ready with the most modern equipment by the end of 1952.

But informed sources—here for the top NATO council meeting opening Saturday — emphasize that Eisenhower has not scaled down his long-range plans for a much bigger force by the end of 1954.

How big an army he envisages never has been divulged, but informed estimates put the 1954 target at 70 to 80 divisions.

"There is no change of plan," a qualified informant said. "We just realized that by trying a little harder and utilizing our potential, we could get a force by the end of 1952 which would be extremely difficult to overrun — and such a force would be a real deterrent to war."

Italians Flee From Raging Po

MILAN, Italy — (AP) — Rescue workers spurred efforts today to clear marooned towns and villages in the Po River Delta before threatened new flood crests could roll down Italy's biggest river.

Steady rains at the headwaters of the Po and along many of its tributaries in Northern Italy increased fears of new dangers in the area, where 100 have lost their lives in the past week and thousands have been made homeless.

Working around the clock, rescue teams, including British and American army units from Trieste, fought tricky currents and swirling debris to remove 8,500 persons from the town of Adria and nearby villages.

Allied headquarters in Trieste said the British and American detachments were being reinforced.

At Montova, about 60 miles east of the provincial capital of Rovigo, the center of the disaster area, the Po was reported rising gradually. So far, however, the flood level in the Delta area below was dropping. Officials hoped the rain waters would run off before they reached the stricken Delta.

Reds Come Up With Their Own Armistice Plan

Two Sides Closest
Since July 27

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN
MUNSAN, Korea—(AP) — Truce hopes brightened today when Communist negotiators submitted a cease-fire plan of their own that could open the way for a Korean armistice by Christmas.

It was similar to a United Nations plan for creating a buffer zone along the present fighting line to take effect if an armistice is signed within 30 days.

A U. N. command communique referred to the resemblance as superficial.

Solution Sighted
But the command's official spokesman, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, said if the Red plan "means what we think it means x x x then I think we are very close to solution" of the buffer zone question.

The point in doubt was whether the Communist proposals means "that troops will be withdrawn from the buffer zone after an armistice is signed" as the U. N. has proposed.

After the Communists submitted their counterproposal at Panmunjon at Wednesday's two-hour truce session, allied negotiators tried to determine whether the Reds contemplated an immediate or delayed withdrawal from a buffer zone to be created along the present front.

Reply Tonight
At the close of the session Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, heading the U. N. subcommittee, told the Red delegates "we will present you with the necessary revisions to clear up this proposal" at Thursday's meeting. It is set for 11 a. m. (9 p. m. Wednesday EST).

He did not say whether he referred to the cease-fire line proposal now before the subcommittee or to the final armistice agreement. And U. N. delegates did not ask. They are expected to clarify this Thursday.

Both sides agree fighting will continue until a final armistice is reached. But to insure this, the U. N. command wants the agreement to say specifically troops will not be withdrawn from the proposed demilitarized area until all truce terms are settled.

Blood Plasma Strike Averted

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Ratification of a new contract by union chemical workers has averted a strike which threatened drastically to slow down the flow of blood plasma to the armed forces in Korea.

Herbert Heath, president of Local 86, United Chemical Workers (CIO), said only 75 of the 955 union members were absent from the meeting and that those attending voted unanimously for the agreement with Sharp & Dohme, Philadelphia pharmaceutical firm. The agreement was perfected earlier in Washington during a 16-hour meeting with arbitrators.

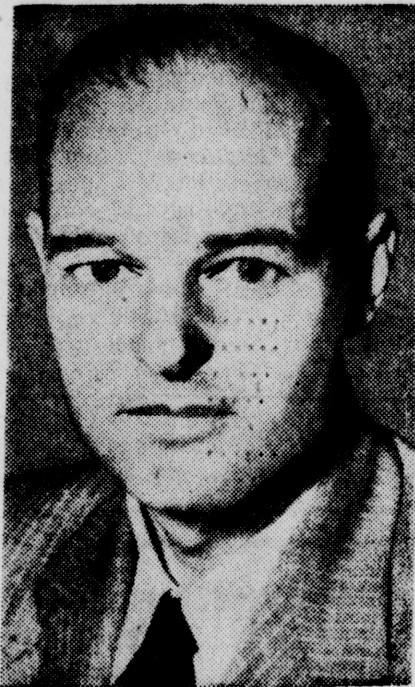

The strike, scheduled to start last midnight, would have halted the processing of the vital fluid at the company's nearby West Point, Pa., plant. The plant supplies about one fourth of the plasma sent to the armed forces.

Working around the clock, rescue teams, including British and American army units from Trieste, fought tricky currents and swirling debris to remove 8,500 persons from the town of Adria and nearby villages.

Allied headquarters in Trieste said the British and American detachments were being reinforced.

With those exceptions, many American soldiers on this front are going to have a real Thanksgiving dinner Thursday — young tom turkey and all the trimmings.

Five-Mile Gain Held By Allies On Korea Front

By JOHN RANDOLPH
SEOUL, Korea—(AP) — United Nations forces today threw back the Reds' strongest attempt to halt an allied line-strengthening drive on the Central Korean front. The U. N. push has gained nearly five miles since Saturday.

The Republic of Korea (ROK) Sixth Division stopped counterattacks by elements of two Red battalions. The South Koreans had the support of a tremendous artillery barrage.

On the eastern front United Nations soldiers repulsed a Red attack northwest of the punch-bowl after a five and one-half hour fight that ended shortly after dawn Wednesday. No other major action was reported from that mountainous front.

The only action on the Western front was northwest of Chorwon. An allied raiding party occupied one hill position in Communist territory.

Traverse City Woman Asks Paper To Help Find Her A Husband

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. — (AP) — Mrs. Margaret Ealy has asked the Record-Eagle to help her find a husband.

The daily newspaper obliged with a front-page story and a picture of the 39-year-old divorcee. She is blonde and attractive.

Mrs. Ealy said the age of a prospective mate doesn't matter too much. What matters most, she said, "is that he'll be good to my little boy."

She has a five-year-old son and also two older sons, one a graduate of Michigan State College and the other a student here.

Mrs. Ealy said she would prefer her husband to be a college graduate and a Protestant. She is a high school graduate herself and would be willing to waive the higher education angle.

DETROIT — (AP) — For the twelfth month in a row Detroit's city-owned transit system has lost money. During October, the DSR reported it dropped $133,845, making the red-ink total for the year $4,304,518. Bus and street car riders declined 14 per cent last month.

Idle Marquette Range Ore Pit To Be Reopened

Goal Set At 400,000
Tons Per Year

DETROIT — (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. and the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. will begin the immediate development of a long-dormant iron ore property in the Upper Peninsula.

The privately-financed project was announced last night in a statement from Ford. A company spokesman said no estimate of the cost was available.

Ford and the Cleveland Mining Company will form from a new company to develop and operate the property. It will be known as the Humboldt mine. It is in Marquette county.

Second Peninsula Boost
Ford said the mining operations are expected to produce 400,000 tons of concentrated iron ore a year from the Marquette range at Humboldt.

It is the second big project for the Upper Peninsula announced in the past week. Last Thursday the Reconstruction Finance Corp. announced approval of a $57,185,000 loan for development of a big copper deposit. The loan was made to the White Pine Copper Co. which will handle the project. Copper, like iron, is vitally needed for the defense effort.

Ford pointed out its joint project with Cleveland-Cliffs also will help the defense effort.

Unused 30 Years
"The tremendous drain of the country's iron ore resources in the Lake Superior regional during and since World War II, seriously reduced the reserve of high-grade ores," Ford said. "Utilization of high-grade ores on the Marquette range at a property that has not been mined for 30 years is a definite contribution to the defense effort. The entire cost of the new operation will be financed by Ford and Cleveland-Cliffs."

Parents Decide To Let Son Die

ALAMEDA, Calif. — (AP) — The distraught parents of three-year-old Rodney Gale have made a heart-breaking decision—to let him die of cancer as soon as possible.

It was one of the toughest decisions a parent could be called upon to make.

A hospital doctor told Mr. and Mrs. LeeRoy Gale that a nitrogen-mustard compound might keep the spark of life alive in Rodney's pain-wracked body for two or three months more.

Yesterday Dr. Luigi Lazzeri, medical director of Children's hospital offered the gift of medical aid—an offer to retard the growth of the cells with a drug. He made it clear that Rodney would die any way—but perhaps not until Christmas was over.

"We felt the child's parents should make the choice," the doctor said.

Tearfully the Gales searched their hearts and came up with the answer they felt was best even for Rodney. It was "no."

Today Rodney, in great pain, grew weaker. Death might come in days—or hours.

pick wild flowers.

The baker, Sgt. Charles Effinger, St. Louis, knew he wasn't going to find any pumpkins. So he planned on sweet potato filling.

Mess Sergeant 1/C Robert Couch of Jackson, Ky., is preparing a menu of stuffed celery hearts, olives, shrimp cocktail, buttered peas and corn, candied yams, turkey, hot rolls, mince pie, fruit cake and fruits.

The big trouble, the soldiers agree, is going to be heaping all that food on one mess kit.

France Wants Fast Flow Of U. S. Cash

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON — (AP) — An urgent request from France for fast dollar assistance from the U. S. today heightened the possibility that the administration may ask Congress early next year for a special foreign aid appropriation.

Britain is in about the same economic plight as France. In fact, almost all this country's European Allies were described by authorities as requiring considerable help to maintain their defense production and their scheduled contributions to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's Western European military force.

Up To 400 Million
Officials told newsmen that within the next few days the U. S. government will probably make a final decision on how much help the French need. Estimates range from $200,000,000 to $400,000,000. That would be direct assistance aside from the dollars the French army earn from American troops stationed in their country and from American expenditures for military installations there.

France has told the United States, according to these informed sources, who may not be named, that its anticipated dollar earnings are such that it will have to cut imports and reduce its defense operations unless special help is forthcoming promptly.

Voted By Congress
Congress this fall voted a mutual security appropriation totalling $7,328,000,000. While the great bulk of that was set aside for the purchase of military equipment to be furnished to America's Allies over the world, $1,022,000,000 was earmarked for economic aid — primarily for Western Europe.

Officials said certain required expenditures out of this economic aid fund leave a net amount for distribution among U. S. Allies in Europe of $950,000,000.

Congress also specified that up to ten per cent of the military equipment funds might be diverted to economic aid, a net of about $580,000,000.

The $1,022,000,000 voted for economic assistance was almost $700,000,000 less than the administration had asked. Officials described that as one of their big difficulties.

Several weeks ago, mutual security officials made tentative allocations of the $950,000,000 fund for 13 countries considered eligible and in need. Negotiations are now under way with those countries to assure that if they are given the money, they will use it to help finance their military programs, as Congress intended.

The latest gunshot death was that of Louis Bonetti, 63, of Ishpeming, shot in the stomach by a companion while tracking deer Sunday near the Marquette-Dickinson county line.

Missing U. S. Plane Violated Border, Red Puppets Claim

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia — (AP) — Hungary and Romania complained officially today that a United States Army C-47 cargo plane—still missing after being fired on by the satellite border guards Monday—crossed over their borders with Yugoslavia.

The notes were presented after American inquiries were made concerning the whereabouts of the plane, whose pilot had radioed his base at Munich Monday afternoon that he had been fired upon by the border patrols of the two countries and had turned back westward.

Premier Marshal Tito's government gave the search planes permission to fly over the northwest part of Yugoslavia, an area previously forbidden to foreign planes, which had been confined to several well-defined air corridors over the country.

A search was also directed over the Northern Adriatic sea, on the possibility the pilot may have come down in the sea.

State Will Try To Speed Jobs

LANSING — (AP) — The state today sought definite points at which it could apply leverage to relieve industrial unemployment, the result of defense conversion.

Governor Williams told his full employment committee to come up with recommendations for state action.

The committee reported Michigan has six per cent of its work force or 135,000 workers idle now, 90,000 of them in the auto industry. A year ago there were 56,000 idle. Normally two per cent are unemployed.

The experts said 68,300 applications for unemployment compensation have been filed, compared with 26,000 a year ago, and 40,000 are drawing idleness benefits, compared with 20,000 a year ago.

Already 4,190 persons have exhausted their unemployment compensation, compared to 2,600 last July.

Williams said the problem was not lack of defense contracts in Michigan industry, but the delay in obtaining new plants and machine tools to handle the contracts. He complimented the Oldsmobile division of General Motors for a good job in solving this problem.

U. S. Casualties In Korea Pass 100,000 Mark

By C. YATES McDANIEL
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 100,176 today.

The defense department's weekly summary, reporting an increase of 950 since last week, sent the total over the 100,000 mark. By comparison, U. S. combat casualties in the first year of this country's participation in World War II were 59,000.

Enemy Losses 1,442,844
Of the 950 new battle casualties reported today, 150 were killed outright in action; 762 were wounded, and 38 are missing. On Nov. 9 the army estimated total enemy casualties in Korea through Oct. 31 at 1,442,844.

The summary said the latest total of United Nations casualties was 313,711.

America families have been told of some 22,000 casualties among their men since Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway first offered to talk about an armistice on June 30.

Retreats Costly

About seven out of every ten American battle losses have been suffered since the Chinese Reds poured across the Manchurian border.

Helicopters Bring Blood And Save Lives In Korea

JACKSON, Mich. — (AP) — Blood sent from home and the helicopter are saving lives of United Nations forces in the Korean warfare.

Capt. Russell D. Winegar told yesterday of the role played by the helicopter in getting blood donations to the front. He flew numerous helicopter rescue missions in Korea.

The officer said the airforce used to laugh at the "mills." But they're not considered in a joking manner now, he added.

"Surgeons tell me," he said, "that it's whole human blood that has done it in this war and they can use all they can get."

But the blood would be useless without helicopters to fly it to mobile surgery units near the front lines. Capt. Winegar said. Up to last October, he said, helicopter squadrons had saved more than 3,000 men, wounded or trapped behind enemy lines.

Final Chest Tally $22,189; Chapekis Thanks All Workers

One hundred and thirty dollars more was contributed within the last 24 hours to boost the Escanaba city total to $14,404 and the Delta county total to $22,189, or $2,189 over the quota, it was reported this morning after the final tabulation in the county Community Chest campaign was completed.

"A few more contributions will be received, but this will be the final report," County Chairman Nicholas Chapekis said. "All the money received will be distributed to the six participating agencies on the basis of budgets approved by the Chest council, and the surplus will be placed in the Chest contingency fund."

Fine Cooperation

Chapekis pointed out that Escanaba, Gladstone and nine of the 14 townships in the county either made or exceeded their quotas. Townships reaching their quotas are Bark River, Bay de Noc, Escanaba, Garden, Maple, Fairbanks, Masonville, Nahma and Wells. Only Brampton, Baldwin, Cornell, Ensign and Ford River fell short of their goals.

"My sincere thanks to the volunteers who made this year's Community Chest drive a success," Chapekis said. "Everyone should know the personal sacrifice of time and expense by workers. We had township workers who donated the use of their cars and painstakingly covered every mile in their respective township."

In many instances, Escanaba and Gladstone city workers neglected their business and housework to do a thorough job. I would like to mention everyone of the helpers by name, but space does not permit. All deserve praise for the success of the drive.

One Drive Idea

"I sincerely hope now that more organizations will see fit to become affiliated with the Community Chest. Perhaps next year more than six agencies will participate. The people of Delta County have grasped the Chest idea because it is easy to see that one drive is more efficient than six—or eight—or ten. "Finally, on behalf of the Salvation Army, Boy and Girl Scouts, Michigan Children's Aid society, Cod Liver Oil Fund and Campfire Girls, I want to thank the people of Delta county for their splendid cooperation."

Respective quotas and contributions by city and township follows:

| | Quota | Subscribed |
|------------|----------|------------|
| Escanaba | $12,500 | $14,404 |
| Gladstone | 4,500 | 4,745 |
| Baldwin | 200 | 160 |
| Bark River | 350 | 366 |
| Bay de Noc | 75 | 88 |
| Brampton | 100 | 25 |
| Cornell | 50 | 24 |

Reckless Hunter Is Fined $10; Wounded Hunting Partner

Ronald D. West, 61, Holt, Mich., who accidentally wounded a hunting companion, yesterday pleaded guilty in Marquette municipal court and paid a fine of $10 and costs.

State police said West mistook John W. Ingalls of Leslie, Mich., for a deer and fired when he "saw something move."

The accident occurred at 12:40 p. m. Monday near Northland in Wells township, Marquette county. The bullet wounded Ingalls inside the left knee.

There were six men in the hunting party who went for one last foray before breaking camp to return to Lower Michigan. Conservation officers ascribed the accident to West's being "over-anxious" to get a buck.

Ingalls is receiving treatment in St. Francis hospital.

More Newsprint Is Indicated

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Newsprint paper will shortly be declared essential, clearing the way for a 250,000 ton expansion of producing capacity in this country, it was reported today.

Arthur R. Treanor, retiring as director of the printing and publishing division of the National Production Authority (NPA), said the ruling he has sought for months "undoubtedly will be favorable" and may come this week.

Treanor foresaw a slight improvement ahead in newsprint supply and a probability that it will not be necessary to impose a rationing system like that under which newspapers worked during World War II.

Railroad Employees Advised Concerning Increased Benefits

Railroad employees are urged not to write to the Railroad Retirement Board about the increase in retirement and survivor benefits recently voted for them by congress.

Keith Donalds, manager of the Board's local office located in Room 201, Escanaba post office building, said the changes have tremendously increased the Board's work. Inquiries in writing for information will only delay the handling of cases.

Amendments to the Railroad Retirement Act entitle 400,000 persons to higher benefits. Many will receive some increases in December.

In addition, 80,000 wives of retired railroad employees are now eligible for a benefit for the first time. Retired employees should not take any steps to apply for benefits for their wives until they receive specific instructions from the Board.

The local board office in the post office building is open each Monday to serve persons in the area.

Begin Checking Of Yule Trees

Station Set Up In Menominee

MENOMINEE—State checking of Christmas trees and cedar boughs being transported through Menominee was started this week by Martin Lund, Ludington, and Arthur H. Wickman of Carney, at their station near the Spies Athletic field on 10th street.

The checking team represents the bureau of plant industry of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Under state law, persons hauling Christmas trees and cedar boughs, whether a truckload or a single tree for home use must show a bill of sale and consent from the owner of the land on which the trees or boughs were grown.

Lund reported little transport of trees so far, most of the truckers are now hauling boughs. He said tree hauling does not get into full swing until the latter part of November. Many deer hunters are returning home with trees, Lund said, particularly those living in southern Michigan.

Editorials—

Average Citizen Is Getting Tired Of Corruption In His Government

WAVES of public indignation over the recurrent exposures of corruption in government are sweeping the country and can be expected to have a marked effect upon the 1952 elections.

The mood of the people is clearly apparent as they get together and discuss the situation in Escanaba. Certainly, similar conversations may be heard in the streets, homes, restaurants, bars and other public places throughout the land.

There are indications that President Truman, always the shrewd Missouri politician, is aware of the dangers that face the Democratic party.

In the past, the president has been inclined to laugh off the gossip about graft and malfeasance in high office. He has established, in fact, a reputation for never going back on a friend. His steadfast support of General Vaughan and other political cronies might be cited as evidence of this presidential attitude.

But just a few days ago President Truman disrupted the joyful atmosphere of his Key West vacation to fire Assistant Attorney General Caudle for irregularities in the handling of tax matters. Since then, a score of appointees in the very-political United States Internal Revenue Office have resigned because of "ill health" and other reasons.

Obviously, President Truman has decided to clean house now, rather than allow the internal revenue office mess to drag out and blow up in his face during the 1952 political campaign. It is a reversal of policy on Truman's part, and it may prove to be good politics. If the internal revenue department scandal could be disposed of now, the voters might forget about it by next fall.

But will they? The Republican opposition can be counted upon to review all the exposures of graft and corruption in public office during the heated political campaign. It will do no good for the Democrats to counter with the argument that persons, high in business and industry, were in connivance with the crooked politicians.

To the large mass of voters, the ordinary hard-working American citizens, this means nothing. All it means to them is that they have to pay higher taxes for governmental corruption and extravagance.

Yes, the average American citizen is definitely getting tax-conscious.

He is beginning to realize that his government has become too big to handle. He has become a servant of the government, the opposite of the original concept that the government should be the servant of the people.

The average American citizen realizes that either by the sin of omission or commission he has played a part in the creation of this Frankenstein-like monster that now endangers his personal security. He sees the problem clearly in the increasing income tax deductions; the declining amount of his take home pay.

In other words, the average American citizen, who is the average voter, too, feels there should be a change in the order of things.

There is no denying that many so-called independent voters are looking to the Republican party for a clear-cut program that will give that opportunity for change.

It all depends upon the Republican party.

Will it nominate the right candidates? Will it sincerely adopt a political platform, which the independent voter and other American citizens can accept with fervor and thanks? Will it be a platform upon which to build a stronger America—honest, clean and forthright?

But State Treasurer D. Hale Brake has sent us an analysis of the tax situation which is interesting although alarming. Here is what Michigan's treasurer has to say about the current tax picture:

How much can the camel carry? The recent tax increase voted by congress is estimated to take out of Michigan an additional $466,000,000 annually. The total state general fund budget here in Michigan for the current year is $306,000,000 so that the increase in federal taxes is $160,000,000 more than the total state appropriations from the general fund.

In the year ending June 30, 1951 the federal government collected in Michigan (this was before the increase) $4,156,021,742 which would be an average per capita cost for federal taxes of $652.26.

For the same period the total of state collected taxes, including liquor revenues, was $465,000 or a per capita cost of $68.31. The total for local taxes was $342,117,000 or a per capita of $53.69. The federal taxes collected in Michigan were 8.24 per cent of the total for the country although we have but 4.23 per cent of the population.

Probably the figures as to federal taxation given above are not quite fair because we collect here in Michigan the federal excise tax on automobiles, trucks, and many other things that are finally purchased by people living outside Michigan who actually pay the tax in the price of the merchandise.

Of course, that works both ways. One who smokes cigarettes actually pays a federal tax on cigarettes, for instance, although the government may collect that tax in Kentucky or Carolina. Just how much that means per year one can only estimate. A college professor friend of mine has made an estimate of $458.32 as the actual cost of federal government last year for each man, woman, and child in Michigan.

Using that figure it still gives 79 cents out of each tax dollar paid by the average Michigan resident to the federal government while 11.08 cents is collected by the state and 9.3 cents is collected as local taxes.

That still, however, does not give quite the correct picture because approximately two-thirds of the taxes collected by state government go back to the local units of government including the schools for use; so if we consider just what the state itself uses as state expenditures, and add state aid to the money raised by local units of government we have about this situation: That 79 cents out of every tax dollar paid by the ordinary Michigan person goes to the federal government, between 3 and 4 cents out of each such tax dollar is actually used by the state, and between 17 cents and 18 cents out of each tax dollar is used by local government including the public schools.

Questions and Answers

Q—Why is blackmail so called?
A—The mail of blackmail means "rent or tribute." Blackmail got its name in ancient England when bandits exacted tribute of cattle, money or the like for the protection of villages.

Q—Is a cold-blooded or a warm-blooded animal best equipped to meet weather changes?
A—Warm-blooded animals can live through colder weather than those with cold blood.

We can be thankful that this core of America is still secure. It is our assurance that, come what may, tomorrow is a day we can look to with hope in our hearts.

New Novel

When the postman brings a novel that is hailed throughout the land, as a masterpiece of fiction that is widely in demand, then you're eager to begin the tale you've heard so much about, and you plan to stay at home and read instead of going out. But you note, when comes the evening and your reading you pursue, that your book is always missing, since your wife would read it too.

It develops into quite a race to get that novel first, and you find that if you want it, then you've got to do your worst. You may grab it after dinner but if you should put it down, when you come to take it up again, you've reason then to frown. Sitting smugly in her chair, the little woman has your book, and she sweetly smiles in answer to your very dirty look.

So throughout the week the battle is with spirit carried on, and no matter where you hide the book, you always find it gone. If you go and ring the doorbell or you call her to the phone, she will take that dratted book along as if it were her own. So at last you must admit the novel battle she has won, and you'll have to wait and read it when the little woman's done.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—At a relaxed Washington dinner at the Carlton hotel recently, Sen. Robert Taft cheerfully bragged to close friends that his delegate strength was "way over 600 and going up."

The senator had just come from a month of political bush-beating and a press conference where he was heckled for almost an hour. In high good humor, however, he told top aides Jack Martin and Lou Guylay: "This has been the most productive political month in my career. Everywhere I've been in the Midwest and south we are gaining strength. If the convention was today, I would get the nomination on the first ballot."

Guylay supplemented this by giving details on a Taft managers' report placing delegate strength at an all-time high of 600—enough to win on the first roll call. (At the 1948 convention, Taft never hit 300 votes.)

Senator Taft listened, beamed, but commented: "After this trip, I would say our strength is way over 600 and still going up."

TAFT'S LINE-UP

Reason for the optimism are the following reports sent in by Taft managers: three Midwest states which turned their backs in 1948—Indiana, Kentucky and Wisconsin—are now on the Taft team.

In Indiana, a Dewey state three years ago, National Committeeman Ralph Gates, the former governor; Ex-Sen. Ray Willis, and 68 GOP members of the state legislature are on record for Taft. In Kentucky, National Committeeman Jouett Ross Todd, a Dewey man in 1948, is actively pushing Taft. In Wisconsin, Republican Boss Tom Coleman is lining up delegates. Coleman is Sen. Joe McCarthy's friend.

In Illinois, Sen. Everett Dirksen has dropped "favorite son" ambitions to be Taft's manager. This means Illinois' 60 votes will probably go for Taft on the first ballot.

In Pennsylvania, the three top-ranking GOP organization leaders were photographed with Taft at Harrisburg—State Chairman Harvey Taylor, National Committeeman Mason Owlett, and Sen. Edward Martin. The other Pennsylvania senator, rugged, independent Jim Duff, is Eisenhower's biggest booster.

NEW ENGLAND TRENDS

The same story of organization politics deserting the Eisenhower campaign to line up with Taft, is true in New England, Taft managers report. At the 1949 convention, Taft received only four votes from the whole area, now is making heavy inroads in Massachusetts, despite Sens. Leverett Saltonstall and Henry Cabot Lodge's preference for Ike. Taft's manager is the energetic New Bedford publisher, Basil Brewer, who figures the Ohioan will get at least eight bay state delegates.

In other New England states, wily Sen. Owen Brewster is trying to snatch the whole Maine delegation, but will have to overcome the prestige of Sen. Margaret Smith, who leans to Ike. Publisher William Loeb of the Manchester, N. H., Union-Leader, is battling for Taft against Sen. Charles Tobey, while Sen. Styles Bridges sits on the fence.

Vermont National Committeeman Jim Dewey, a cousin of Governor Dewey, is openly pro-Taft. In Rhode Island, Taft pulled a crowd of party leaders at a $50-a-plate dinner, and ex-GOP National Committee Press Agent Jim Selvaage is organizing for Taft in Connecticut.

KANSAS SURPRISES

At the Carlton dinner the other night, Taft gleefully revealed two surprises. They were promises of strength from both Kansas, Ike's home state, and from New York, under the careful thumb of Governor Dewey. Publisher Frank Gannett is determined to break Dewey's hold by splitting the delegation for Taft. He has the undercover support of 10 New York congressmen.

Taft did not reveal his contacts in Kansas, but did say that while visiting in Kansas City he had received definite pledges of support from key party leaders. Taft lieutenants pooh-poohed claims that Eisenhower will puncture Taft's hold in the south. They say that, while the senator will not go into California to oppose Gov. Earl Warren, he expects to break even or better in seven of the 11 western states.

Grocery Clerk's Dream Comes True; She Bosses Huge Vegetable Cannery

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

NEW YORK—The United States can raise or produce anything raised or produced anywhere else in the world and do it better. That includes everything from Italian tomatoes to equipping our armies with the finest rations.

So believes Tillie Lewis, a small, busy woman in her early forties who began her career as a clerk in a Brooklyn grocery store. Today she is president of Flotill Products of California, the largest assembler of C-rations for the Army and one of the big-five canners of fruits and vegetables.

This big boss in a skirt controls three large canneries, two in Stockton and one in Modesto, with a payroll at times over a million dollars a month for 4500 employees.

At one Stockton plant, on some days 37 freight cars arrive with C-ration components from 52 cities in 23 states, while a stream of trucks from western farms deliver tons of fruits and vegetables daily for canning at her other plants. This ambition-motored woman, whose academic career ended with one semester of high school, is now seeing her girlhood dream approach fulfillment.

"My dream was to build an industrial empire for myself," she told me in her New York hotel suite, obviously determined to appear relaxed during our interview. "America is practically feeding the world today. That's why I am so hopeful of seeing my dream come true soon. Besides the contract to assemble C-rations, we are doing a big job for the Quartermaster Corps canning fruit and tomatoes. I guess it is fair to say that I am an asset to our national defense."

Brushing back her luxuriant blond hair, Mrs. Lewis added: "Yes I believe in price control when it is necessary. Otherwise our economy would run away with itself. I think the present setup is very fair because the Capehart amendment takes care of hardship cases."

When a restrictive tariff cut down imports of the small pear-shaped Italian tomatoes considered perfect for canned tomato paste, Mrs. Lewis decided to raise them in California despite warnings from soil experts that it could not be done.

"But I was determined," she says. "I started building my first cannery in 1935 and the hammers have never stopped pounding. One of my Stockton plants is more than a third of a mile long. At another, more tomatoes are packed than at any other plant in the country." A chain smoker, she paused to light another cigarette. "Did I tell you we just built three large new warehouses for the C-rations?"

What about the opportunities for women in American industry?

Her dark eyes became impersonal. "There are many factors in success—ambition, hope and stick-to-itiveness. Being a woman has nothing to do with it, one way or another. If a woman has these qualities, she'll be successful. If not, she won't," she stressed. "It's the same with men, isn't it? Only I do think women often pay too high a price for success. They forget how to relax."

She believes women must take more serious interest in politics, particularly local politics. "And I believe women should enter the defense industries," she said. "But only those industries near where they live. Then they can work on defense and also keep their homes together at the same time."

The rebirth of integrity in our national and industrial life is one of the first requisites of our accelerated defense program, she insists. "I mean that for every man Jack of us. And I'm not talking politically. Also we must develop even better labor-management relations than we now have if our national might is to increase."

Her husband is Meyer L. Lewis, formerly western director of the AFL in charge of 11 states. She met him in 1940 when he arrived to investigate a strike at the Flotill plant. The strike was settled in an hour. He joined the company as general manager the following year and married the boss in 1948.

He came into the luxurious hotel suite as she was telling me of her almost maternal relations with her men and women workers.

Looking a lot like the actor, Edward Arnold, and radiating unaffected friendliness, Lewis smiled at his cyclonic wife.

"Did Tillie tell you she's a good cook?" he asked me. "She's really wonderful. That's why I like to stay home most of the time."

Can the Ship of State continue to float until the end of his term? God help us.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUKATHAN

GRANDMA WAS A SLOUCH—Chatting with friends one recent evening we came to the conclusion that Grandma was an over-rated commodity.

"I'm getting tired of constantly hearing stories of how Grandma could bake bread with one hand, raise a family of twelve with the other, while she nonchalantly shot Indians skulking at the edge of the clearing—with which hand I don't know," said a modern young mother, her fingers deftly flying with her knitting.

"Not only that," she added, viciously shoving the needle to pick up a dropped stitch. "Grandma was supposed to work herself to death at an early age, take care of the farm single handed after Grandpa died, sit like a gentilewoman in her rocker by the stove, and live to the age of 92."

We agreed that Grandma in recollection is a composite and highly fictitious picture presented to the younger generation to prove that today's young folks are soft and decadent.

AND NOT TOO BUSY—In defense of this legendary figure called Grandma, one of the men pointed out that the old lady must have led a busy life.

"Why," he said, "she even had to pack a lunch for the children when they went to school."

This brought immediate response from his wife.

"Sure, Grandma made a lunch and the children were out from underfoot for the rest of the day. But," she continued, "did she belong to the PTA? Help with the preschool conference? Take part in the Halloween carnival? Hold benefits for the school fund? And vote in school elections?"

No, Grandma didn't, she finished triumphantly—Grandma just packed a lunch.

THEY TAKE TIME—Grandma was supposed to be a conscientious woman who could dominate a town meeting, her husband, her family, rout an Indian chief, and tame a fractious horse.

But in reality, it was agreed, Grandma probably had little if anything of importance to do in politics since she couldn't vote. She didn't even attend meetings of the League of Women Voters, since there wasn't any.

Today's woman is not only expected to vote but to be informed on a variety of subjects and to lead discussions and know parliamentary procedure. If she is the retiring type she can work on committees or just come to listen.

THE LABOR SAVERS—Those who think in the Grandma tradition will tell you that Grandma must have been a hard worker—she didn't have all those labor saving devices.

By the same token, Grandma didn't keep her house as clean as does today's housewife. Instead of using the whole house, Grandma hermetically sealed the parlor and family life revolved around the kitchen.

And in all the big houses there was a Helga or a Bridget who did the heavy scrubbing and cleaning, peeled the vegetables, and relieved Grandma of countless other chores. For this the "hired girl" received a couple dollars a month, her board, and a quick-freeze room where she didn't linger too long.

THE CHANGING TIMES—The woman of today may not be able to shoot an Indian, since there are none that threaten, but she does other things that would have turned Grandma pale with fright.

She drives a car, operates an automatic washing machine, travels by airplane, and does her own shopping.

Today's woman also often fills positions of responsibility in local, state and federal government; practices medicine and law; and often successfully combines a job with that of housewife.

THE READERS WRITE

Southbury, Conn.: "Is it true that one of the kings of England actually knighted a loin of beef and called it 'Sir Loin'?"—C. K. G.

Answer: That story is such a good one it seems a shame to say that there is no truth in it. Henry VIII, who ruled from 1509 to 1547, was the first to receive credit, although he did not receive it until a hundred years after his death. Next, in 1732, Jonathan Swift gave the credit to King James I. who died in 1625. The last to be credited, in 1822, was Charles II, ruler between 1660 and 1685. In each tale the monarch was supposed to have been so delighted with the quality of a roasted upper portion of a loin of beef, upon some special occasion, that he drew out his sword, touched the beef with it, and said, "Hereafter thou shalt be dubbed 'Sir Loin.'"

However, despite the number and distinction of the "dubbers," the tale is entirely false. The only basis for it is that some time around 1600 the word began to be misspelled. Before that date this cut of meat was correctly known as "sirloin," which, from "sur," over or above, meant nothing more than the cut of meat over the loin. But after the false stories began to be taken seriously, the correct spelling became altered to "sirloin."

Sterling, Colo.: "I have been delegated by our club to ask you the correct pronunciation of 'Don Quixote,' over which there has been much discussion." —Miss D. K. C.

Answer: The name of Cervantes' hero may properly be anglicized either to "dahn ki-HO-tee" or to "dahn KWIKS-ah-tee." If you prefer you may use the Spanish form, "dahn kee-HO-tee," but if so the author's name should be pronounced "thair-VAHN-tace."

Temple, Texas: "In speaking of a person who plays the piano, is it preferable to say 'pi-ANN-ist' or 'PEE-un-ist'?" —T. C. J.

Answer: Both pronunciations are in good usage in this country, the first being more widely used. But in England, the second is preferred.

Deviationism Crops Up In Malaya State

KUALA LUMPUR—(AP)—That big crime of "deviationism"—often prevalent in Communist party circles in Eastern Europe—also seems to crop up among members of the Malayan Communist organization.

Information received here said Siew Lau, alias Pang Yee Foo, a Red terrorist leader in Malacca state, his wife and a friend all had been executed on the orders of the politburo of the Malayan Red party.

The three were shot because Siew Lau had become a "dangerous drifter" away from the party line.

Politics Banned In Conservation, Governor Says

BY JAMES A. O. CROWE

ST. JAMES, Mich.—Gov. William Williams is on record with a flat promise to keep partisan politics out of the conservation department.

He made the pledge over the weekend in an address on Beaver Island as he presented the Island Game club with a nation conservation award.

"So long as I am governor," he said, "and so far as I am able to prevent it, there will be no meddling with the conservation department on the basis of partisan politics."

"So far as my office is concerned, the commission and the director will be left free to perform their duties without partisan interference. In turn, I shall ask and require only that they do their work well."

"What I want, in other words, is for Michigan's conservation job to be done as effectively as you have done yours here on Beaver Island."

The governor has been under some criticism in conservation circles for what they charge was an effort early this summer to dictate the choice of a new conservation director to succeed the late P. J. Hoffmaster.

His "hands off" promise was seen as a bid to get back in the good graces of the sportsmen's

Idle Marquette Iron Ore Mine To Be Developed

Describing the project, Ford said:

"The crude ore will be mined from an open pit and passed through concentrating units which will produce a product substantially higher in iron content than the ores now being commercially mined in the Lake Superior region."

"First of the concentrating units will be capable of producing 200,000 tons annually. Development of the property will begin immediately and capacity production is expected by late in 1953. A second unit of similar capacity is scheduled to be in operation by 1955."

"It is also planned to build another plant at a later date to agglomerate the ore concentrate into pellets suitable for use in both open hearth and blast furnaces. However, shipments of iron ore concentrates to Ford will begin as soon as the first concentrating unit is completed. Ford will mix these concentrates in its new sintering plant to produce enriched sinter which will be used for the production of iron and steel. Ford uses 2,000,000 tons of ore a year."

Between 1865 and 1920, about 1,100,000 tons of direct shipping ore were mined from the Humboldt property, Ford's statement said. It added:

"The yearbook of Lake Superior Mining Institute proceedings (1936) reports that in 1896 Thomas A. Edison spent some time and money at Humboldt in the erection and operation of an experimental mill for the magnetic separation of local ores. A fire destroyed the plant before any definite results were obtained and it was never rebuilt."

Power Supply Ready
"Little more was done until 1947 when Cleveland-Cliffs began preliminary exploration of the area to determine the reserve of low-grade ores and methods of utilizing them."

"In 1949 diamond drilling at the Humboldt property financed by Ford and Cleveland-Cliffs established that a sufficient tonnage of crude material existed to warrant development. A modern research laboratory was completed by Cleveland-Cliffs at Ishpeming, Mich., that year to develop economic methods for processing the lean ores owned by Cleveland-Cliffs in the Lake Superior district. Work done at this laboratory established a process for the concentrating of the lean ores at the Humboldt property on the basis of field samples. Cleveland-Cliffs acquired a large acreage by ownership or lease."

The Cliffs Power and Light Co. will supply electric power for the plant and the open pit mine. The property will be serviced by the Lake Superior and Ishpeming Railroad.

Ships Brave Icy Gales In Race For Ore Record

Despite gales and freezing weather the Great Lakes ore fleet continued the race for record iron ore tonnages before winter closes ports and channels.

At Escanaba the C. & N. W. ore docks have loaded a record total of 6,365,135 tons of ore to date, rapidly nearing the port's goal of 6,800,000 tons set last spring. The tonnage to date is already one million tons above last year.

Higher temperatures speeded loading last night and two boats cleared, but one—the Str. Alexander Leslie bound for Detroit with 5,082 tons of ore—was turned back to shelter in the harbor here by 45-mile gales on Green bay and Lake Michigan. The Str. Samuel Maier, a larger vessel, is bound for Cleveland.

Nine additional boats are scheduled to arrive here for ore before Nov. 26, and at least four will come after that date. It now appears the docks will continue operating into December unless unfavorable weather becomes more severe.

To Nov. 19 the Great Lakes ore fleet had moved a total of 86,360,035 tons against 75,319,557 tons a year ago.

This year's haul will be second only to the 1942 all-time high of 92,076,761 tons.

Truman Anticipates Mud Slinging; Won't Take It Lying Down

Mrs. Truman, who had a lot to do with making the presidential date for the banquet meeting, laughed with the crowd as the president said:

"I am not going to make any announcement about who the candidate will be, although I do have some ideas on the subject."

Mrs. Truman has reportedly urged the president to retire when his present term expires.

The president approached his 1948 "give 'em Hell" campaign form as he virtually dared the Republicans to make an issue of foreign policy. He said some GOP members "want to play with dynamite" in that manner.

"But we can meet this issue if it comes," he declared. "This is a warning: If the Republicans do make foreign policy an issue in the campaign, it will be the best issue the Democratic party has. We can stand on our record in foreign policy and our achievements in the struggle for peace."

Mr. Truman ignored charges made against officials of his administration in connection with government loans and the internal revenue bureau scandals. Some Republicans have contended the Democrats will talk about foreign policy in an effort to soft pedal domestic difficulties.

Mr. Truman's line was to attack the methods the Republicans have used and to accuse them of distorting facts. He said "special interests" will pour plenty of money into such efforts in 1952.

"There will be loud Republican voices trying to destroy our faith in ourselves and in our present course of action as a nation," he declared. "There will be a deliberate attempt to misrepresent the basic facts."

"The bitter, partisan, backward-looking 'Old Guard' will try to belittle our progress and prosperity at home," he said.

"I venture to predict that there is going to be more money spent in trying to defeat the Democratic party next year than has ever before been spent in any election in the history of the republic."

Los Angeles Man, 59, Convicted Of Slaying His Landlady In 1922
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—John P. Crozier, 59, was convicted yesterday of slaying his landlady in San Francisco nearly 29 years ago.

The jury recommended life imprisonment for the strangling and robbery of Mrs. Elizabeth Platt on Jan. 13, 1922.

The crime had remained on police ledgers as unsolved. Then, a year ago, Crozier was arrested in Darien, Conn., for vagrancy. Police there said he babbled a partial confession to the 1922 slaying.

But when he was returned to California to face murder charges, he insisted that he had confessed in Connecticut only to escape spending a frigid New England winter in jail.

School Moving Across Nation

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Have you ever moved your family across town?

If you think that's a problem, how would you like to move an entire school more than 3,000 miles across the continent?

That's the task confronting Rear Adm. Ernest E. Herrmann, superintendent of the U. S. Naval postgraduate school.

The technical branch of the school, established here in 1909, closed its doors today after 42 years of operation. By the time classes are resumed on Feb. 18, 1952, for the second half of the present school year, it will be consolidated with the tactical branch at Monterey, Calif.

In addition to the dismantling and shipment of tons of laboratory equipment and material, the move involves the transporting of about 500 families from coast to coast.

To transport its huge load of equipment, the Navy intends to use trains, trucks, planes, and ships. The railroad, assigned about 50 boxcar loads, will be the chief carrier.

The equipment ranges from delicate chemical balances and microscopes to enormous but delicate testing machinery, boilers, and two wind tunnels. The most intricate equipment must be torn down and packed by manufacturer's representatives.

Hurdles All Cleared For Social Security Of State Employees
LANSING (AP)—All hurdles have been cleared, Auditor General John B. Martin, jr., reported today, toward writing a federal-state contract permitting some 30,000 employees of local governments in Michigan to receive social security benefits.

By law the way is barred now only to employees of governmental units which already have pension systems of their own. These include most of the major cities and a few counties.

After a conference with federal officials, Martin said machinery will be operating in two weeks to admit any local unit which desires to join.

Martin said he expected about 500 of the 2,000 local units eligible to come under the system.

Foresters Study Upper Peninsula Swamp Cuttings

Foresters have just completed a field survey of 65 swamp forest cuttings throughout the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, Z. A. Zasada, in charge of the Lake States Forest Experiment station office in Marquette, reported today.

Cooperating with the Forest Experiment Station in the project were the Bonifas Lumber company, Ottawa and Upper Michigan National Forests, Escanaba Paper company, Northern Paper Mills, Cleveland Cliffs Iron company, and Michigan Department of conservation. The purpose of the survey is to determine the kind of forest stand which has resulted from different sorts of cutting on a variety of swamp types and sites.

The findings will help to direct future research in management of the potentially valuable swamp forests of the Upper Peninsula into the most promising channels.

While many swamp forests have been cut over in the Upper Peninsula, only those were examined for which the conditions at the time of cutting were known or could be closely reconstructed. Records and lands of forestry agencies, companies, and timber operators were checked to gather the information.

A report on the results of the survey will be prepared in the near future.

Trumans Will Have Florida Thanksgiving
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman left by plane at 10 a. m. (EST) today to resume his stay at Key West, Fla.

Flying down with him for Thanksgiving were Mrs. Truman, Chief Justice and Mrs. Fred Vinson and several White House officials.

Vinson is an old friend. He has been mentioned in political speculation as a possible Democratic candidate for president next year if Mr. Truman decides not to seek reelection.

For the president, the return to Key West will mean the resumption of the combined work and vacation he began Nov. 8. Mr. Truman flew to Washington yesterday to make an address last night to the Woman's National Democratic Club.

U. S. Casualties Go Over 100,000 In Korean Conflict

der into the then virtually-won Korean battlefield a little more than one year ago.

The 70,000 U. S. casualties reported since the Chinese entered the war include nearly 8,000 of the 12,500 Americans listed at one time or another as missing in action. This missing figure has been reduced to a current total of around 10,800.

General Ridgway said in a report early today there was "considerable evidence" that approximately 6,000 U. S. soldiers captured by the Communists were victims of "death by atrocity." He said there was no "conclusive evidence" of the number of atrocity deaths, and that 254 victims had been identified and their families notified. Most of the 6,000 who, the general said, may have been atrocity victims, are included in the current missing category, his report stated.

Approximately half of all U. S. casualties in Korea have occurred since the bitter retreats and rear guard withdrawals of last winter and during the series of Red spring offensives and U. N. counter blows which have moved the battle line back to the center of Korea.

Marines Hit Hardest
For the army and the navy, the Korean conflict has been the fourth costliest in U. S. history, ranking in human casualties after World War II, the Civil War and the first World War.

Current Korean marine corps losses of over 16,000 make this undeclared war more costly in killed and wounded than all the wars, campaigns and expeditions which the leathernecks fought from the revolution until the start of World War II.

It's happening every day in Michigan

GLADSTONE, in the Upper Peninsula, supplies many telephone poles. Bell System purchases there help swell the pay checks of MacGillis & Gibbs Company workers who prepare poles and soak them with creosote to make them last longer.

Perhaps you hadn't thought of it before. But millions of dollars are spent each year in Michigan for tools and supplies needed to furnish telephone service. This means business for many Michigan industries and jobs and pay checks for the people who work in those industries.

For instance...

IN BATTLE CREEK, Jack Rosborough and Leo Zaparka, at the Electrical Manufacturing Company, hot-dip-galvanize the hardware which their company makes for use on Bell Telephone lines. Here they're finishing bars that will become steps in the brick walls of manholes beneath city streets.

Good telephone service needs a continual stream of supplies—especially in these days when national defense requires fast, dependable service.

And it takes money to buy supplies. So to keep up the quality of your service, and to continue making substantial contributions to Michigan's economy, your telephone company must stay financially healthy.

Hunting News

Dave Clark of Detroit got his buck the first morning of the season while hunting north of the Junction. It was a 6-point buck weighing 140 pounds. Mr. Clark and Emil Jensen left Sunday for their homes in Detroit. They stayed at the Kenneth Lavigne home for the opening days of the season.

Fred Popour sr., was also successful in bagging his buck on the first day of the season.

While hunting in the Coolaw Lake area on Friday, Ivan Schaf-er got a 6-point buck.

Nick Gemuenden filled his license on Saturday morning hunting near his cabin on Billy Goods lake. His buck is an eight-pointer weighing about 180 pounds.

Kenny Lavigne downed a four-point buck on Sunday afternoon that weighs 160 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Feethman and sons Don and Bob of Owosso are with the Olin Webers of Owosso at Nick Gemuenden's cabin on Billy Goods Lake and hunting in that area.

Due to an erroneous report, Mr. Sefcik, manager of the Nahma store, was given credit for bagging an 8-point buck. Up until Monday noon, Mr. Sefcik had not filled his license.

Chief's Trip To Fire Delayed By Situation

SAN PEDRO —(P)— The fire department's Engine Co. 53 had a double alarm yesterday. Just as the bell sounded for a fire, a woman clad only in panties entered the station.

The firemen clanged off to the fire while the battalion chief handled the other situation.

The woman, Mrs. Lembit Pihu, 22, told police her father Swan Linkkonen, 49, had torn off her clothes and beaten her. He was jailed on suspicion of assault.

Ringling Circus Goes In Winter Quarters

SARASOTA, Fla. —(P)— The Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus went into winter quarters here today after an eight month coast to coast tour.

The big top wound up the 17,265 mile trip with a performance before the homefolks last night for the benefit of the Sarasota municipal hospital. It was the first time in six years the circus has put on a regular show for Sarasota, accustomed to seeing the acts as they are developed each spring.

Officials reported the circus played to about 4,000,000 persons in 410 performances in 37 states.

Ruark Says:

Too Many Remedies For Too Many Ills Nowadays

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—It seems to me I am sicker these days than I used to be, and it also seems that the sickness stems from the prevalence of pills. We have too many remedies for too many ills—too many specifics for the old-time common ordinary aches.

Everybody I know takes pills. They take all the vitamins, green, pink, blue, yellow, red. They take pills to go to sleep. They take pills to get up from the slumber that has been induced by other pills. They take up-lifting pills, and down-beat pills, and by gosh the pillbox is more rife today than that snuffbox of yesterday.

For some obscure reason I got along for donkey's years on food alone. Didn't need the triple vitamin. Didn't need the complex-X to cure a hangover. Aspirin was taken for a really desperate head. Once in a while you demanded a brief touch of calomel, or a light slug of Lydia Pinkham's to clear up the complexion. But never the heavy dosage of pills, pills, pills, just for pills' sake.

Living Gets Artificial
The artificiality of living today is manifest in many a medium, but the pill thing tells me that we are really off on a reverse kick. You get to thinking that Sir Francis Drake sank, or sunk, the Armada, and I will bet you double he never did it by benefit of capsule. D.

Boone never needed a short methadone to bang that bear out of the tree, and I expect that gold was discovered at Mister Sutter's place without artificial assistance.

My sawbones says that I got all sorts of deficiencies. I got a loose liver, and a framnis on the over-straw, and for all these delicacies of being I got to take pills. The pills cost a minimum of eight bucks per each, and they taste worse after you consume them than they did going down. To now they have not cleared up a chronic condition of bloodshot eye or an overwhelming sinus. Nobody yet has delivered, in capsule form, a nostrum which will keep you from hating yourself in the morning.

Battle of Antibiotics
The feeble frame has been subjected, this year, to multiple assault from penicillin, aureomycin, streptomycin and all the other big anti-biotics. There has been a combat in progress which has so weakened me that I figure to be a sucker for the next germ that ain't got no place to go except home to papa.

The nearest thing to surgery that is performed today is a stab in the caboose with a hurried facsimile of what they give you in pill form. As a chronic invalid I appear to have been sitting on a porcupine. Do I feel better? Nunh-huh. I feel worse and worse, although some might say that depenent is still alive. All the benefit I have collected from this year is over-activity, for in words a child can understand, I am just too sore to set.

The latest bulletin from the medics is that all the wonder drugs are losing their punch. The microbes are getting longer and stronger, and are thumbing their little noses at the cure-alls. I know this to be true: I got germs today that would have slaughtered grandpa. So have all the other people that own a franchise on Lycopodium. I just guess that the pills and the injections have weakened them and encouraged the viruses.

Are We Sissies?
Maybe it is so that modern times have made a nation of sissies of us, and that the stress of mere existence is getting us down. All I know is that everybody feels poorly, and everybody tells you that he has found the most magnificent cure for what makes him ache.

Which leads me back to grandpa. Grandpa suffered from a dreadful illness; he had a built-in hatred of work. Grandpa used to say that there was nothing under the sun that a solid jolt of corn whiskey wouldn't cure—or, at least, ameliorate. Grandpa lived to be nearly as old as the pyramids, and he never took a pill in his life.

I have decided, in the prevalence of pills, to go back to the ideals of my fathers. If ham-and-hominy, whisky and turnips-greens can't do it for me, I am to just lay down and die. But I have taken my last pill, and you know something nice? Now I can find the razor and the toothbrush, which are things that got lost for years behind a forest of vitamins and preventives that had grown in bottles.

'Casualty' Tally Shows Urgent Need Of CARE Packages

The "casualty" tally for South Korea's civilians runs like this: Estimated population 21 million. Homeless refugees 5 million. Additional war victims 1 million. Actual sufferers—Every single person in South Korea.

That summation, cited by Care representatives who surveyed conditions in the war-devastated country, was released by the General Federation of Women's Clubs to illustrate the magnitude of the relief needs. The Federation, through its local Women's Clubs in every part of the United States, is currently conducting a Thanksgiving-season campaign for funds to send CARE packages of food and textiles to Korean war victims.

Blank as are conditions now, according to the CARE survey, the need for food, clothing and other supplies will grow even more critical during the coming year, because of the cumulative effects of malnutrition, the complete loss of personal possessions, the depletion of previous supply stockpiles and the soaring inflation which sees wages lagging far behind prices of available goods.

Crop Yields Affected
Future crop yields, the CARE report explained, will be seriously affected by past recruitment of farm labor into the armed forces; by the tremendous loss of draft animals, and by shortages of fertilizer and seed rice. Sea food, on which Koreans ordinarily depend a great deal to supplement their diet, will also be scarce; fishing boats have been wrecked, commandeered or worn out, and there is a great lack of material for nets and other fishing gear. Decrease in normal food production means that South Korea will need 115,000 tons of food products in 1952, according to conservative estimates by responsible officials.

Clothing will be even scarcer than food, the report predicts, since the bulk of the output of South Korea's cotton and woolen mills in the past year was diverted for use of the Korean armed

Service Thursday At St. Stephen's

Thanksgiving Day will be celebrated at St. Stephen's Episcopal church at a service at 10 a. m. The service will include the singing of Thanksgiving hymns, Holy Communion and a sermonette on the theme of the day by the Rev. Joseph S. Dickson, rector. Members and friends of the parish are invited as well as those who have no church home in the city or who are visiting here.

forces. Normally, the Korean population requires two yards of fabric per person per year for cotton replacements. Now, because of the almost total loss of their personal belongings, it is estimated that some five million persons will need five yards of cloth per person. The critical need for clothing—and for warm blankets—will be felt this winter.

Out of Range

Whatever supplies are available, CARE's report pointed out, are out of the reach of the average person because of the wage-price squeeze. Against a daily wage of 4000 Won for manual laborers and 7300 Won for skilled workers (such as expert bricklayers), this is the average price range: a cake of laundry soap, 1000 Won; one yard of cotton sheeting, 1300 Won; 10 eggs, 3600 Won; a pair of shoes, 50,000 Won.

Contributions to the General Federation of Women's Clubs CARE-FOR-KOREA Campaign are being applied toward providing war victims special packages prepared by CARE. Donations can be sent locally to Care-for-Korea, c/o Miss Josephine Ryan. Delivery will be made, in the name of the donors, in time for the Christmas holidays.

LUDINGTON BUY-LINES

MY friends tell me they read this column for jokes that have stood the test of time! But of course they really read it for the up to the minute bargains that I hunt out. What could be more timely than the sumptuous men's robes at Penney's? Designed to give the ultimate in comfort for those relaxed moments when he has slippers on his feet and time on his hands! Penney's offer the finest robes in wool, gabardine, beaon blanket, and satin. A sea-quard. Rich shades of maroon, blue and green; from $7.90 to $12.75. Pop need a rest? The rest is up to you!

SOME things go without saying, but not the new lounge pajama sets at the Fair Store. They may be too elegant for words, but they speak volumes in style and comfort. Three styles especially took my fancy. A quilted satin coolie coat top with satin trousers; comes in red, white or green — a dragon on the pocket and three frogs for the front closing. Another is the Balinese print, p. j.—quilted print with black or white background and lined in kelly or aqua. The third is multi-colored and green; the quilted jacket lined in contrasting colors. All are beautifully tailored and are so glamorous they'll leave her speechless. (Now that's a thought!) See them at the Fair!

SHOE, shoe, baby! Nice to put that dressy double strapped shoe on your foot without feeling strapped at all! The tiny price is a secret when you see the beautiful lines of this black suede shoe. Two narrow straps from one side meet a single one at the other side of the instep. I found this marvelous shoe at Lauerman's where there is a tremendous supply of dressy shoes priced from only $3.45 to $7.95. Included are spectator pumps, the sandals, sling pumps and ties. Both hi-cuban or spike heels; platform or regular soles; navy, black and brown suedes; red, green, brown, and black calfskin; red and brown reptone. You'll always find something afoot when you visit Lauerman's shoe department!

A WELCOME sound to any man is the cry "Three belles and all is well!" What man isn't happy when he's looking at a trio of beautiful girls? If you want to make your man happy, take him down to the Michigan Theater to see the belles that are "Painting the Clouds With Sunshine." Virginia Mayo and Dennis Morgan head this gay musical of gags and gals. It's the story of three girls who go to Las Vegas in search of millionaires but find love instead! Filled with mighty fine dancing and both old and new song hits. You'll have your head in the clouds when you make "Painting the Clouds With Sunshine" your Thanksgiving treat. Starts tonight!

If you'd like to know how a turkey feels in Nov., just wait until March 15th when you'll get it in the neck! I hope long before then you've discovered that one way to save money is to install Culligan Soft Water at your house. Best of all is the way it cuts down on your soap bill—and of course clothes last much longer when they're washed in soft water. We like those soft water shampoos at our house; and I take a cut at that grocery bill every meal time, because you brew a better beverage with less tea or coffee when you make it the Culligan Soft Water. It's tops in your taps!

REMEMBER Pricilla's, "Why don't you speak for yourself, John?" The modern man can best present his case when he gives her a traveling bag from Young's! Famous for men's wear, Young's helps it's male costumers make a bid for miliary's favor by selling the famous Eagle luggage that women so admire. There are two sizes of wardrobe bags and the popular small train case. Comes in green, white or gray leather, or a tweed fabric. I suggest you press your suit with a case from Young's!

SHE quit going with the printer when he said she was just his type! Anybody is the type for a Prom home permanent. That's because Prom has a different type of lotion for different types of hair... Very Gentle, Regular, and Super. The wonderful thing about a Prom is that it takes no neutralizing which makes it a very speedy permanent to give—and it takes every time! Gust Asp has the new Prom wave for just $1.50 plus tax. And Prom guarantees a soft, natural looking wave that lasts four months or more. Stop at Gust Asp's and let Prom keep its promise!

IN these uncertain days the only thing you can count on is your fingers. Oh yes, and the Stephenson Lumber Company! That's one thing everybody knows who's lived around here very long. If you're pioneering in this business of building a house, I suggest you make a little pilgrimage out to Stephenson's. When you see their excellent supply of well seasoned lumber, sash and door equipment, insulation, roofing, and every building need, you'll say with the rest of us — "Thanks for a company I can count on!"

The evening was spent socially and lunch was served at the close. A heart-shaped cake formed the table centerpiece.

A special award went to Beverly Brandt.

Present at the event were Joyce Swanson, Louise Burcar, Lois Karnitz, Kathy LaVelle, Elaine Ayotte, Joan Skradski, Nance Martin, Marion Apelgren, Mary Alice Krout, Marilyn Royer, Arlene Green, Dolly Nieuwenkamp, Marilyn VanDeWeghe, Beverly Brandt, Pat Stenac, Gerrie Smith and Beatrice Brusoe.

IT'S JUST A SONG—"Who's Afraid of the Big Black Bear" is just a song as far as Albert Bratonia, Gladstone, is concerned. Finding one dened while on a pre-deer-season trip to his camp in the Black Creek country, Bratonia cut loose with a .22 caliber pump gun he has just acquired and killed the animal. With him are Ray Tackman and son, David Tackman. (Daily Press Photo)

Group Discusses Teenagers, Cars

Advisory Rules Will Be Drafted Soon

Naming a committee of adults and students which would try to work out a middle ground code of rules for use of autos by teenagers was recommended at the close of a panel on the subject held Monday evening during a regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers association.

The code would be advisory in nature. Participating in the panel were Martin Becker sr., Mrs. A. R. Watson, Mrs. Milton Berg and Mrs. Francis Rabitoy and students Roger Tetzner, Bob Quarnstrom, Charles Harris, Richard Sundling, Patsy Stenac and Theresa Harris, with Sup't Wallace C. Cameron serving as moderator.

In discussing use of autos after class parties or other functions, it appeared that the desire "to be with the crowd" dictated how far the students went and how long they stayed.

During a digression from the panel topic, it was disclosed that some students fully approved to chaperoned camp parties and several parents said that while they didn't approve, "all the others were going and if they didn't want their children left out of things what could they do but allow them to go."

Miss Helen Marie Sohlberg, librarian, described the purpose of a library and outlined new efforts being made to better serve both the school and public.

Mrs. Zola Beauchamp's room again won the attendance award. Mrs. John Greene reported on the new member contest being conducted in the schools of the city and in which a prize will be awarded the room enrolling the greatest number of parents. The drive will continue through Dec. 3.

Parochial school grades are also included in the contest, Mrs. Greene said.

Present Trophy To Guardsmen

Ceremony Held Monday Night

Company D, 107 Engineers Combat Battalion, which at Camp Grayling last August won the state marksmanship title, was presented with a certificate and trophy at ceremonies Monday evening at the armory.

The presentation was made by Lt. Col. Leonard C. Ward, of Escanaba, battalion commander, assisted by Major Frelsen Reese, of Ishpeming, regular army battalion instructor.

Capt. E. J. Doyle, company commander, accepted the award on behalf of the men of the Manistique unit.

In making the presentation Lt. Col. Ward said:

"Capt. Doyle, officers and men of Company D, 107th Engineers, I present to you this trophy which represents your superiority in rifle marksmanship in the state of Michigan in competition with over 100 other units of the Michigan National Guard.

"As state winners this same score of 82.5 will be compared with the winners from the other 12 states in the Fifth Army area to determine the winner of the Pershing trophy.

"The highest score of the winners of the Pershing trophies in all six of the army areas receives the National Guard association trophy as the best in the nation.

"I can't describe the pride I feel in this splendid achievement of each individual of Company D. You have brought honor and credit to yourselves, your officers and noncommissioned officers, to your commander, Captain Doyle, to the city of Manistique and the Upper Peninsula, to our army instructor, Major Reese, to me as your battalion commander, and to all other officers and men of the 107th Engineers. General Loveland (Major General Richard A. Loveland) has directed me to convey to each of you his commendation upon your outstanding record in winning this award."

In making the presentation the battalion commander also expressed the regret of General Loveland, who commander of the Michigan National Guard division, that he was unable to be present for the ceremony.

Several local citizens were present for the presentation program and also remained for the showing of two reels of National Guard motion pictures afterwards.

Three Held On Entering Count

Broke Into Beer Warehouse, Charge

Replenishing the beer supply at a party early Sunday morning led to the arrest Monday evening of three local young men for breaking and entering the warehouse of the Williams Bottling Works.

Taken into custody by state police about 10 p. m. Monday were Wayne Tutnell, 22, and Wesley Smithson, 23, both of Manistique. Another man, Robert Harris, 19, also of Manistique, already was under arrest for assault and battery when the more serious charge of breaking and entering was lodged against him Monday night.

The three were arraigned yesterday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Victor P. Deemer, waived examination and were remanded to the county jail for appearance in circuit court in default of $1,000 bond each.

Harris later was returned to justice court to face arraignment on the assault and battery charge, also an outgrowth of Sunday morning's party. He pleaded not guilty, and trial was set for Tuesday, Nov. 27.

He was arrested for assault and battery Monday afternoon on complaint of Mrs. Virgil Roemer. The Williams warehouse, located on an alley between Walnut and Main streets, was entered Sunday morning and a quantity of beer taken. Entrance was gained by smashing a catch on a double door.

CARD OF THANKS
We appreciate more than words can tell the kindness of neighbors, friends and relatives during our recent bereavement, the death of beloved father. We are especially grateful to Rev. George Pernaski for his consoling words and other manifestations of sympathy, to those who served as pallbearers, sent floral offerings and to all others who aided us in any way. The memory of these acts will ever remain with us.

Pasadena has its Rose Bowl, New Orleans its Sugar Bowl, Miami its Orange Bowl, Dallas its Cotton Bowl and Escanaba has its Turkey Bowl. . . That's right, the Upper Peninsula's only Bowl game will be played right here in Escanaba on Thanksgiving Day. . . Site of the clash, the 20th annual by the way, will be the Barr School playground. . . Nobody knows just who will play who until the gang gathers together for the game. . . A lot of former Escanaba athletic stars return home for the classic, but age means nothing. . . As long as you can run and throw, you stand a good chance of getting in action in the neighborhood Turkey Bowl clash Thursday.

Three Upper Peninsula high schools finished high in the final Detroit Free Press state football team standings. . . Stambaugh, Menominee Range champs this past season, rated the No. 1 spot in the Free Press class C list. . . Newberry, Barber trophy winner and champions of the U. P., wound up second among the state's class B schools. . . Menominee, edged for the U. P. crown, placed sixth in class B.

Among the football letter winners at Northern Michigan College of Education, Marquette, were four former Escanaba athletes. . . Major letters were won by Axel Anderson, Jack Schils and John Beaumier. . . Dave Rademacher was awarded a minor letter. . . Ray Cayemberg, Ensign, also received a minor letter.

John Moerchen, Menominee Maroon end, has been named Menominee's athlete of the year at the Menominee VFW's annual football roundup. . . Moerchen is a 6-foot, 1-inch, 185 pound senior. . . He plays baseball, basketball and football. . . One of the few field goal kickers in the U. P. in recent years, Moerchen booted three three-pointers during his high school career.

We wondered the other day how Big Ed Neal, former Packer, would greet his one-time mates when Green Bay took on the Bears Sunday. . . Neal reacted as expected. . . On the first play from scrimmage he rushed Packer Center Jay Rhodemyre and the Bears drew a five-yard penalty. . . A short time later he was nicked 15 yards for slugging and then early in the second quarter was removed from the game with a leg injury.

Colorado Enters State Game With Confidence

BOULDER, Colo. —(P)—The twice-beaten Colorado Buffaloes room from the Rockies Saturday to throw the last block in Michigan State's drive to an unbeaten season and consideration for the mythical national football championship. What are their chances?

Unranked Colorado matched against Michigan State No. 2 team in the Associated Press ranking, is like David's meeting with Goliath in Biblical day.

But Coach Dave Ward says his players—like David—are a bit scared. "We're not going there with any defeatist attitude," says Ward, who piloted Colorado to second place in the Big Seven conference.

Coaches Will Be Heard Next At Presidents' Meet

WASHINGTON—(P)—Coaches will have their say at the next meeting of the group of college presidents studying what's wrong with intercollegiate athletics.

Dr. John Hannah, president of Michigan State College, is chairman and spokesman for the committee. He told reporters yesterday that the heads of the Basketball, Football and Baseball Coaches' associations will be invited to the committee's next meeting, to be held here Dec. 12-13.

The National Collegiate Athletic association also will be asked to send two representatives.

Hannah said he hopes the committee can come up with the answers and how they can enforce them—"in a matter of weeks."

Spartans May Need All-Out Effort Against Colorado

EAST LANSING—(P)—Michigan State was going down the home stretch this week with only Colorado to subdue to make this an unbeaten season.

The Spartans, prime target for upset-happy undergrads all year, will have to go all out again according to the scouting reports.

There was no setup in practice this week although squad members were weary and bone-sore under the strain of the narrow 30-26 edge over an inspired Indiana team last Saturday.

Scrimmage was the order of the day in the Tuesday afternoon practice as Coach Biggie Munn ran his charges through both indoor and outdoor workouts.

The offensive unit scrimmaged against a defense mostly composed of freshmen. Billy Wells, who provided the punch that pulled the Spartans through the Indiana game with his 85-yard touchdown run, was getting a lot of attention.

Wells alternated with Vince Pismo at right half. Ellis Duckett, third man at the position, didn't see into scrimmage due to his

Marquette Named Site Of Sectional Tryouts For U. S. Hockey Team

MARQUETTE, Mich. — Sectional tryouts for the United States Olympic hockey team, open to all players in the Upper Peninsula and Northern Wisconsin, will be conducted in the Palestra here Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning, Dec. 15 and 16.

Arrangements for use of the Palestra were completed early this week by Connie Pleban, former Eveleth, Minn., hockey star, and the Marquette Recreation department. Pleban, who played for the Marquette team during the 1941-42 season before entering the armed forces, will be coach of the Olympic team.

The only restriction on candidates for the Olympic six, Pleban said, is that they cannot have played professional hockey at any time. There is no age limit.

Regional

Following tryouts here—which will be conducted from 4 to 7:30 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time) Saturday, Dec. 15, and 8 a. m. to noon Sunday, Dec. 16 — players whose performances are impressive enough to warrant further consideration will be invited to participate in regional tryouts in Minneapolis the following weekend, Dec. 21, 22 and 23.

Pleban then will select a "west" squad of 10 players to fly to New York Dec. 27. A series of exhibition games will be played with the "east" team, ending with an exhibition against the Boston Bruins, then the Olympic team of 15 players will fly to London on Jan. 17.

Another series of exhibitions will be played in Europe prior to appearance of the U. S. team in the Olympic hockey games in Oslo, Norway, Feb. 14 to 24.

Robert Ridder, of St. Paul, Minn., is manager of the U. S. Olympic team.

Red Wings Move Farther Ahead In Hockey Loop

BOSTON—(P)—The Detroit Red Wings increased their first place margin over the idle Toronto Maple Leafs to seven points last night with a 2-0 victory over the Boston Bruins.

The National Hockey League leaders scored late in the third period to extend their undefeated road record for the season to nine games.

Terry Sawchuk posted his fourth shutout of the season. He kicked out 23 Boston shots on the Detroit goal.

Little Tony Leswick tallied at 14:57 of the finale on assists from Metro Prystai and Glen Skov. It was Leswick's second goal of the season.

Defenseman Red Kelly fired the Red Wings' second goal into the empty net at 19:27. The Bruins' goalie, Sugar Jim Henry, had been removed for a sixth skater in a desperate attempt to tie the count. Henry had been sensational up until Leswick's shot from 30 feet out.

A slim crowd of 6,190 saw the game in Boston Garden.

Boston has failed to win at home this season, having tied four and lost three.

FORMER HURLER DIES

ASHLAND Wis.—(P)—Joe Rogalski, former pitcher for the Toledo Mudhens of the American Association, died yesterday at the age of 39. The veteran minor league pitcher had a brief tryout with the Detroit Tigers.

Stanford And SMU Stars Are Voted Best Of The Week

NEW YORK —(P)—A guard from the Pacific Coast conference and a tackle from the Southwest conference were picked today as the linemen of the week in the Associated Press poll.

Norman Manogian of Stanford's unbeaten Rose Bowl bound team earned the nod on the offensive side. Big Bill Forester of Southern Methodist won defensive honors.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Portland, Ore.—Harry "Kid" Matthews, 177, Seattle, stopped Dave Whitlock, 182, San Francisco, 2.

Salt Lake City—Garth Panter, 163½, Dayton, Idaho, knocked out Bobby King, Montreal, 3.

Newark, N. J.—Chico Vejar, 141½, Stamford, Conn., stopped Jimmy Ge Dee, 151, Plainfield, N. J., 3.

Jacksonville, Fla.—Big Bill Wilson, 228, Charlotte, N. C., stopped Jack Herman, 208, Tampa, 4.

Duluth, Minn.—Glen Flanagan, 137, St. Paul, knocked out Bert Callahan, 125, Greensboro, N. C., 1.

White Plains, N. Y.—Georgia Sinclair, 125, Winnipeg, outpointed Bill Bossio, 122½, Pittsburgh, 8.

Bangor, Me.—Evan Roy, 140, Old Town, Me., knocked out Kenny Sampson, 142, Boston, 2.

Harnie Cagers Set For Monday Debut Against Vagabonds

A team of veteran cage stars has been organized under the auspices of the Harnischfeger corporation and will operate on the independent basketball circuit this winter.

First test for the Harnies will be an exhibition game against the Detroit Vagabonds, crack Detroit team, Monday night at the St. Joe gym.

The Escanaba team includes former high school and service team standouts from this area. Seven players are listed on the Harnischfeger roster.

A brief rundown of the cagers and their background follows:

Tom Dufour—Six-feet, two-inches. Broke into independent basketball in 1940. After three years in service played on three consecutive championship teams, Swifts, Delta Hardware and Shamrocks. Received Joe Rodman trophy as outstanding player at Hermansville Gold Medal tournament in 1948. Plays guard and is outstanding defensive man.

Bob Dufour—At six-one rates second tallest player on squad. Played three years for Escanaba high school. Won outstanding player award in class B at Hermansville in 1948. Aggressive and good defensively, plays forward and center. Hook shot is best scoring weapon.

Ed Gauthier—High scoring six-footer, starred at Escanaba high and led scoring of team in senior year. Steady influence on team, plays forward position. Veteran of five years independent ball on championship teams. Saw action at Michigan State College. Best shot is one hand push.

Warren Fisher—Six-one, rugged defensive player. Captain of the Gladstone high school team in senior year. Plays center, uses hook to score and rated good rebound man.

Dale Gibson—Five-eleven, graduated last year from Rapid River where he starred for several years. Dead on one-hand push from around the free throw circle, plays guard position. Good floor man and rebounder, serving first year with independents and rated outstanding prospect.

Mickey Kutchenberg—Five-eight. Former high school star, playing first year with Harnischfeger. Fast and good shot on the move. Has four years of independent ball experience, scores best with one-hand push, very aggressive in spite of lack of height.

Charlie Camps—Five-nine, former Nahma high athlete. Very fast, plays forward, clever under basket and can get up for rebounds. Moves continually and uses speed to tire opponents. Scores mostly on one-hand push shots.

Lions Seek 4th Victory In Row Against Packers

DETROIT—(P)—The Detroit Lions will try to extend their current string to four straight in their National Football League Thanksgiving Day game with Green Bay's Packers here tomorrow.

A victory over the Packers would put Coach Buddy Parker's Lions into a first-place tie with Los Angeles and the Chicago Bears in the league's National Conference.

Kickoff at Briggs Stadium will be at 12 noon, EST. A crowd of about 35,000 is expected. The game will be televised on a National network excluding Michigan and Toledo, O.

The Lions will be out to stop Bobby Mann, a former teammate who now is the Packers' leading scorer. Mann has caught eight touchdowns passes to date.

Detroit plans to keep the same offensive lineup that started the team's current victory streak Nov. 4 with a 24-17 victory over the Packers.

The Chicago Cardinals vs. the Chicago Bears in the oldest rivalry in pro football, having started back in 1920.

Wolverine Prospects Poor For Next Season

ANN ARBOR—(P)—The season ending Ohio State game will focus attention on the probability that Michigan's 1952 prospects may be lower than they were at the start of this season.

It will be the last game for ten Wolverines who have furnished most of the experience on the present losing squad.

Despite the presence of several promising freshmen and sophomores and the expectation of more, it is the experience that is needed to face Western Conference opposition successfully.

In the backfield adieu will be said by Capt. Bill Putich and Fullback Don Peterson, who despite the record of only three wins in the last eight games did a better job than was expected of them in leading the Michigan offense.

Biggest Loss

Probably the most serious loss will be in the burly, hardworking tackle, Tom Johnson, who, with few exceptions, has been the anchor of the Michigan line on offense and defense.

Johnson, who combined endurance, agility and smartness, has been one of the top players developed by Michigan in many a season and his stability will be missed.

Along with Johnson will go Ends Fred Pickard, Russ Ostermann and Bob Dingman. Pickard has held down the offensive end post for two years and Ostermann and Dingman had developed into top defensive players.

In addition, Michigan will lose three good guards in Bob Timm, Tom Kelsey and Jim Wolter. That trio has done yeoman service and replacement will not be easy.

The other loss will be Tiny Wes Bradford, the scabcat who was too small for college ball but managed to win games for the Wolverines anyway. Though he is only a junior, his army induction is imminent.

Rebuilding Job

That departing corps will force a rebuilding job on Coach Bennie Oosterbaan, the like of which Michigan hasn't faced in five years.

Numerically, Michigan has lost more top players in most of the previous seasons. But this time there's little experience to replace them with. Next year will probably be a year of experimentation with the new men and the few experienced players left on hand.

The departing crew will have a final fling Saturday against Ohio State. That factor may be one of the reasons why the finale is always an unpredictable affair.

The Wolverines are working with unusual determination in preparation for the game with defensive help emphasized for the underdog Michigan squad.

Oosterbaan put his boys through a lengthy offensive scrimmage yesterday with the hot and cold aerial game coming in for most of the attention.

With The Deer Hunters

There was increasing quiet in the deer country today as an estimated 60 per cent of the downstate hunters returned and even local men left camps to spend Thanksgiving Day at home.

As the hunting season advanced and the spirit of the deer slayers declined, figures from the Straits of Mackinac indicated a reason for the loss of enthusiasm.

The deer kill dropped sharply below last year, with approximately 1,000 fewer bucks taken south across the Straits to date. Comparative figures are as follows:

|------------|-------------|
| 1950 | 1951 |
| Deer | 3,875 2,993 |
| Bear | 94 72 |

There was a similar decline in the number of fox, wolf, bob cat and coyote taken this year in the Upper Peninsula.

Today's report from Escanaba district conservation headquarters revealed no hunters lost or additional hunters wounded in the Delta - Marquette - Alger region. One hunter was reported lost but was found safely tucked away in a tavern.

To date conservation officers in the district have made 64 arrests and delivered 27 emergency messages.

Reports of deer kill, some of them near the opening of the season, continued to come as hunters returned from the woods.

Bert Webber of 521 South 14th street downed an eight-pointer weighing 180 pounds on the opening day while hunting near Covington in Baraga county. Snow on the ground there is one and one-half to two feet in depth.

Hunting closer home, John F. Johnson of 323 North 11th street, yesterday afternoon bagged an eight-pointer weighing 180 pounds while hunting on the West Branch of the Ford River.

Two of the several hunters at the Plourde camp at Cornell have hung up their bucks. Les Kinney put his tag on a 170-pounder, Bob McCowen bagged a 100-pound spikehorn. Both men are from Kalamazoo.

An Escanaba hunter, Bert Goodreau of 1210 Third avenue south, connected with a six-point 150-pound buck near Arnold last Friday.

Mike Greis, 1300 North 16th street, out for his second season of deer hunting, got his first buck in the Schaawe Lake area. His brother, John, who was hunting with him, has not yet filled.

Successful hunters include Art LaFave, Escanaba Route One, whose buck was a 6-pointer, weighing 150 pounds, and Donald Rheame, 1405 Stephenson avenue, who brought down a 4-point, 130 pound buck. LaFave got his the opening day of season and Rheame filled yesterday. Both hunted in the Peroville district.

Kenneth E. Brotherton, retired Major in the U. S. Army, who has established his permanent residence at Garth Shores, remarked before season that he hoped he could wheel his buck home in a wheel-barrow, and that is exactly what happened.

Comic Books Aren't So Bad After All, Says MSC Professor

EAST LANSING—(AP)—Those comic books aren't so bad after all, according to a Michigan State College professor.

Dr. Morton Malter, assistant professor of education, ought to know. He read through 10,440 pages of 185 comic books as part of a research project.

"General attacks on comic magazines are unwarranted," the professor said. "It is not true that they are dominated by crime, sex and violence and 90 per cent of them would be acceptable for publication in newspapers."

Prof. Malter said the books contained the following percentage of materials: advertising, 15.7; western, 11; adventure, 10.7; animal antics, 10.3; love, 10.2; detective, 9.3; superman stories, 6.9; adult antics, 6.6, and covers, written material, features, adolescent and children's antics, sports stories and jungle stories, 19.2 per cent.

"There are good and bad comic magazines with the 'unacceptable' ones greatly outnumbered," the professor concluded.

100 yards from his home and wheeled it in.

Wallace Hubert, 331 N. 20th St., downed a six point, 140 pound buck Sunday morning at 9:10. Hubert was hunting from the H & N camp near Northland.
